Alan Peel

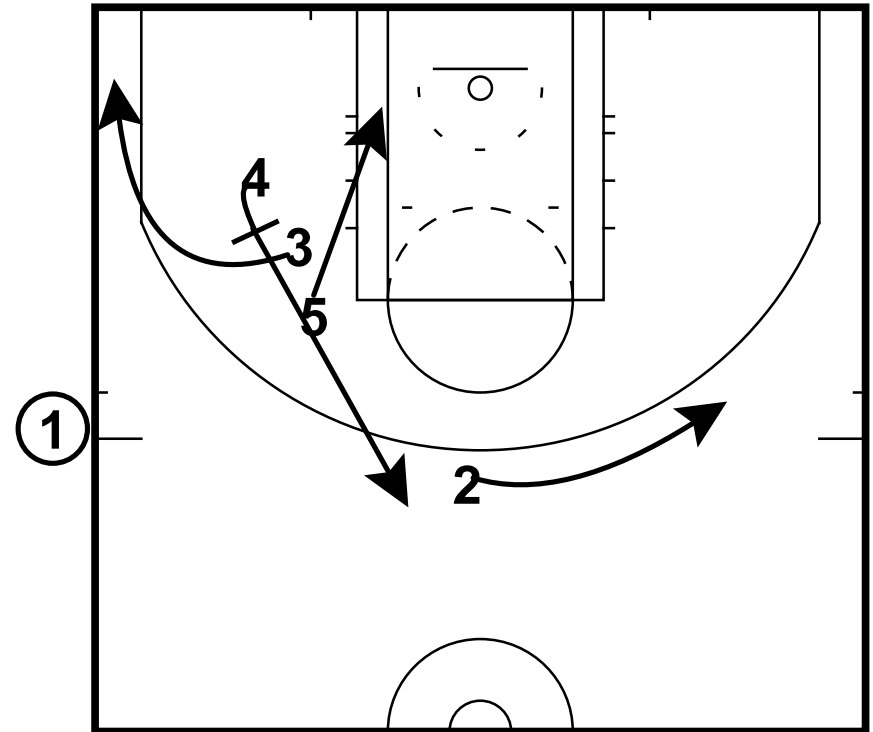

The Players

- #1 – Jose Calderon (#8)
- #2 – Monta Ellis (#11)
- #3 – Vince Carter (#25)
- #4 – Dirk Nowitzki (#41)
- #5 – Brandan Wright (#34)

The Play:

The play begins with a slanted stack as illustrated. Once #1 gets the ball in his hands, #2 will come off of the stack rubbing off of screens set by #4 and #5 and look for the inbounds pass.

If the first option to #2 is not open, #1 can throw the ball in to #3 in the corner for a three, #5 slipping to the basket, or #4 coming out to the perimeter. #2 will space away to give #4 the space for his shot.

When your team runs this play, #1 should be your best inbounds passer, #2 should be your best three-point shooter, #3 should be your second-best three-point shooter, #4 should be a big who can handle the ball on the perimeter, and #5 should be your best big man.
